

GREAT AUK

🐧 It looked a bit like a penguin The Great Auk couldn't fly and had a black-and-white body, which made it look penguin-like — even though it lived far from Antarctica.

🌊 It was an amazing swimmer Its small wings worked like flippers, helping it zoom through the water to catch fish.

🏝️ It lived in the cold North Atlantic Great Auks made their homes on rocky islands near places like Canada, Iceland, and Greenland.

🥚 It laid just one big egg Each egg was large, colorful, and covered in unique squiggly patterns — no two eggs looked the same.

📏 It was pretty tall for a bird A Great Auk could stand almost 3 feet tall, making it one of the biggest seabirds of its time.

📜 People have known about it for thousands of years Ancient cultures carved pictures of Great Auks into rocks, showing how important and memorable this bird was.
